Special sales are the order of the day and we are strictly in it. The rush at our store last week was phenomenal. Why? Because we advertised and sold our special bargains lower than they could be bought elsewhere. We will continue this week and offer some good things, such as will be appreciated by the economical housekeeper.

VERY MUCH ENJOYED.

The closing exercises of the primary grades of the Commerce street school took place yesterday morning at the school building. An entertaining programme, neatly printed, had been prepared for the occasion, and was faithfully rendered. From the opening song through to the closing number, there was not a hitch, not a moment's hesitation. When one remembers that here were some hundred and fifty children, between the ages of 5 and 8, and that the greater part of the programme was concert work, one will form some idea of the infinite pains necessary to drill them. This of itself spoke volumes for the teachers, and if the parents present were proud of their children's work, back of it must have been a feeling of congratulation that they were under the care of such teachers. Where all was so good, it seems almost invidious to particularize, but we cannot pass over one or two selections. The "Motion Song," of "The Dandelion," by Miss Lucy Boswell's room, was a dream of rhythm and grace, and the writer has never heard better concert work than was done by this room in its rendering of the XXIII Psalm, and by Miss Janet Hillery's room in its Bible quotations. The Swedish gymnastics, given by Miss Hillery's room, was specially fine, every order being responded to with the promptness and accuracy of trained soldiers. The duet, "Onward Float," and several choruses by pupils from Miss Stone's room, were among the best numbers on the programme, the first being applauded so heartily that the little ones were forced to repeat it. In the absence of Mr. T. Fishburne, who was to have spoken, Mr. Roy B. Smith made a short talk to the children. This closed the programme at the school building, but as a beautiful sequel to it the children marched in a body to the City Cemetery, and with hands as innocent and hearts as pure as the flowers they bore, strewed the graves of the Confederate dead with the wreaths that had been used in the decorations. Could one conceive a sweeter picture than this?

TROUBLE IN POCAHONTAS.

Meagre reports reached this city last night of a fight between Baldwin detectives and the police officers of Pocahontas, which occurred yesterday evening. The trouble arose out of the ill feeling that has existed for some time between J. S. Browning and the Flat Top Coal Company. On yesterday morning the Flat Top Company tore down one of Browning's tipples and placed a squad of Baldwin's men at the place to prevent Browning from rebuilding or taking possession. Mrs. Browning had warrants sworn out for the arrest of the detectives and in the attempt of the officers to execute the warrants a fight ensued in which Mike Roper, constable, was right severely bruised. No serious damage was done and quiet was finally restored. The Flat Top people have appealed to the judge for an injunction to restrain Browning from going on their property. The injunction, it is understood, was granted, and to-day the sheriff of Wise county and a squad of men will take charge of the place. It is feared that trouble may result from the action of the Flat Top people in the matter.

A COMMENDABLE ENTERPRISE.

You Will Miss It if you do not think When You Read This, and Then Investigate.

The National Business College continues the session now in progress until July 31, 1897. As other schools close soon, special arrangements and terms will be made by us to accommodate students from other schools.

Pupils could not put in their time better, during their vacation, than to enroll at the Business College. Students from other schools, ranging from 15 to 20 years, absolutely lose the vacation, from 3 to 7 months of the year, when they should have their minds employed. "Idleness is the devil's workshop." Then, too, they forget the past year's training until the next session. Why turn a young man loose, in the prime of life, to do nothing, when men of middle and old age strive each month of the year to succeed in business life?

Small children need a school vacation; but why students from 15 to 20 years should be allowed to loiter during the school vacations, which forms the habit of idleness, I have never been able to solve. Is not this a question for you to solve? Do parents do nothing during the school vacations? "No, indeed. We work hard during this time, that we may send our children to school next year." If the above is true with you, why not put your young men and women where they can prepare themselves to make good salaries, and help you, as well as themselves, during these "hard times"? To help them do the above is the mission of the National Business College, Roanoke, Va. Please come to the school, and examine the courses. Our English department is well attended. We have a good preparatory department for young pupils.

We teach you the banking business. You work at the college just the same way they do in the bank. We give you $5,000 in Business College currency, with which you buy, sell and keep books on entering the Business Department. Each shorthand student is given practical dictation.

Besides the above we give each student, who enters either of our courses, a first-class English course in connection with the business course. English is not neglected because of our school being a Business College.

We welcome you to examine our work. English, Practical Commercial Trading, and keeping your own books. Shorthand and Typewriting, Telegraphy and Penmanship, are the courses taught.

Courses for special penmanship under a professor who knows how to teach the art.

"A drop of ink will make a million think." Come to this school. We can show you many instances where we have gotten good salaries and good positions for our students.

NEWBERRY IN TROUBLE.

Wythe Newberry, of Bland county, who is a well known horse and cattle trader of that county, came to Roanoke Thursday and on yesterday morning was locked up charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was very indignant at being locked up and expressed his determination of suing the city if it cost him ten dollars.

BIG BICYCLE PARADE.

The Virginia Wheel Club will hold a race meet at the Lake and Driving Park on Saturday afternoon, May 29, a notice of which has previously appeared in "The Times". In connection with this meet a monster parade of the wheelmen and wheelwomen of the city will take place this afternoon under the supervision of the club. The parade will be in charge of R. Frank Taylor, captain. H. L. Hensel will lead and have charge of the first division. There will be four divisions, in charge of the gentlemen named below, and will form in the following order:

First division—H. L. Hensel, aide. Will form on Kirk avenue east of Jefferson. All riders in cycling uniform belong to this division.

Second division—Will A. Carr, aide. Will form on Kirk avenue west of Jefferson. Ladies and their escorts will ride in this division.

Third division—Harry H. Baughman, aide. Will form on Church avenue west of Jefferson. All riders in citizens' clothes will form in this division.

Fourth division—J. Shields Hoffman, aide. Will form on Church avenue east of Jefferson. Boys under 17 will join this division.

Interval of sixty yards between each division. The start will be made promptly at 5 o'clock and move over the following route: Jefferson street to Salem avenue, to Commerce, to Church, to Park, to Campbell, to end of macadam, counter-marching at this point and returning to Park street, to Church, to Jefferson, to Walnut, thence back to Campbell, to Randolph street bridge, to Third avenue n. e., to Kimball, to Seventh, to Commonwealth, to Market Square, where the parade will be dismissed. A prize will be donated for this parade, and coupon tickets for this purpose will be distributed to the participants during a stop to be made at Kimball avenue and Seventh street n. e. The rider holding the lucky number will receive the prize, which will be awarded at the race track on Saturday afternoon, May 29. There is great rivalry between the crack riders of Roanoke and the crack riders of Salem, each thinking he is the best, and at the last race meet the honors were somewhat divided, and as this meet is specially for Roanoke county and city riders, some well contested events will be run off. Each event on the programme will be warmly contested from the flash of the starter's pistol until the men cross the finishing tape, and time limits have been placed on the one and five mile races, in order that there may be no loafing. The men are training daily and some marvelous exhibitions of speed out at the track are being heard of.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

An evidence that Mrs. Ella Gottschalk-Seeligson is not only a musical genius, but also the possessor of fine pedagogical talents, which enable her to impart her accomplishments even to juvenile candidates of the art, making their studies as interesting as possible and thereby truly enjoyable, was furnished by her exquisitely arranged "May recital" given by a number of her younger pupils to their little friends and a few invited guests yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, at her studio on Jefferson street. In conformity with the occasion the studio was tastefully decorated with the messengers of spring, "roses and ferns." The programme of the festivity, as executed by the little ones, was as follows: "Greeting," duet or piano by D'Ourville, Misses Edwina and Margaret Seeligson; "Hello-thrope," by Lichner, Miss Eleanor Yeatman; "Carnation," by Lichner, Miss Emily Henderson; "Tulip," by Lichner, Miss Alice Izard; "Jasmin," by Lichner, Miss Jennie Watts; "Garland of Roses," by Streabog, Miss Helen Hough. Part 2:—"Waltz," by Low, Miss Viva Enock; "Bohemian Polka," by Low, Miss Eugene Nae; "Fairly Dance," by Bohn, Irene Bachrach; "Polish Dance," by Thomas, Master Augustus Soule; "In Poland," Mazurka, Master Windsor Soule; "An Revolt," by Lichner, Miss Mary Churchill. After the recital the gay party repaired to the lawn and after a few games little Marguerite Seeligson was chosen Queen of the May, it being her birthday, with the following little misses as maids of honor: Eleanor Yeatman, Josephine Kohler, Pearl Knack, Ethel Churchill, Alta May Hood, Cary Ludwig, Elizabeth Lowney, Catharine Cox; scepter bearer, Annie Hobbie. After this ceremony they performed the May pole dance and the festival wound up with delightful refreshments. The young performers reflected much credit on their instructor by the precise, accurate and expressive rendition of the several selections. Mrs. Seeligson was very ably assisted by Misses Massie, Gray, Hillenry, Kindred and Tallafiero.

Bread, Rolls, Cinnamon Buns, hot every evening. J. J. Catogni.
